Tremont Museum Update

If you've been around the Tremont Museum on Thursday mornings, you've seen the excitement as the 1912 Water Works Building is getting a much needed facelift. It will be called The Tremont Agricultural Heritage Museum. Heating and air conditioning has been installed, walls cleaned and painted, a lovely stained glass work of art by Joe Venovich has been installed over the passage door and Clint Kehlert has worked innumerable hours to restore the bi-fold doors on the building. Many other volunteers have worked tirelessly on this project. We are now ready to build displays as we get near the grand opening.

We are currently looking for Tremont agriculture and implement dealer signs to place on the walls. If you have, or know of someone who has these signs, would you consider loaning or donating them to the museum? Please contact Rick at 840-1492.
